You are invited to join us for an exclusive breakfast with special guest speaker, Agnes Gitau. Agnes is a patriotic Kenyan and a Partner at GBS Africa. Her personal and professional experience have made her a strong advocate for the inclusion of women - a topic close to our hearts at Five Talents too.

Please join us at Simmons and Simmons offices for breakfast on Thursday 7th March from 8.00am to 9.00am to join Agnes's roundtable discussion centered around International Women's Day, "Inspire Inclusion: Invest in Women".

We can promise you a fascinating talk and a delicious breakfast! There will be plenty of time for Q&A with Agnes and of course an opportunity to network and catch up with all the latest news from Five Talents. We'd love for you to invite a friend too!

RSVP by emailing events@fivetalents.org.uk before 28th February to reserve your place.

Agnes Gitau is a Partner at GBS Africa, where she provides political and economic risk intelligence, and strategic market entry support to businesses with an interest in East Africa. She combines this with an executive position at the Eastern Africa Association, where she plays a key role in promoting business growth and co-operation in the region. She is a committee member of the East Africa International Arbitration Conference (EAIAC, a platform that promotes Arbitration and alternative Dispute Resolutions) and a member of the WTO gender Research Hub. She also serves as a trustee to several charities, including Five Talents.

Five Talents is a charity working with partners in communities in primarily eastern and central Africa, enabling people to set up small businesses by providing training and access to Savings Groups and small loans. Over the past 25 years we have worked with more than 280,000 entrepreneurs. Around 80% of our members are women.
